Dedication

What has she done?

A simple question? True
Yet in our answer.

Many words come through.
What has she done?

Shall we name diverse deeds?
She gave herself.

To fill our many needs.

- ... The many classes she taught with willingness.
- ... The parties that sprang from paper to hours of fun at the touch of her hand.
- ... The many from all over this area who still find her a joy to know.
- ... The many "intangible bricks" of influence, love, understanding and concern that have helped build our school — she has piled these one upon another.
- ... The guidance of her discipline when one failed to do her best.
- ... The trips she chaperoned with fun always going along.
- ... The Christian character she portrays in her church and makes evident in all her life.

What has she done?

Can one doubt what we know?
She gave herself.

Does this not clearly show?
What has she done?

Amid this strenuous Life?
Can one not see

How she brings Joy to strife?
What has she done?

For those who from her seek?
She gives herself.

And thus her life does speak.
Who is this one?

Who now deserves our praise?
It is "Miss Mac"

And our tribute we raise.

Dr. J.M. Boswell

President's Message

I want to commend the members of the 1960 annual staff for the work they have done in assembling and editing the material for the 1960 Lamp. As we enter the third year of our four-year program and contemplate the graduation of our first four-year class in 1961, we find that much has been accomplished in the past year and that there is much to be done. As the college faces the challenge of meeting the requirements of a four-year program, we have found our students enthusiastic about the program and have found them to be loyal, helpful, and cooperative in this as in other things.

Moving into the four-year program not only demands additional responsibility on the part of administrative and staff members, but also demands increased responsibility and maturity in thought and action on the part of the members of the student body. The college has enjoyed the reputation of doing excellent work with its students on the junior college level and anticipates turning out four-year graduates who will do honor to their chosen professions and who will assume responsibility in community leadership in whatever places they may reside.

The yearbook is one of the landmarks designating our achievements and progress. The administrative staff and the academic staff of the college are most appreciative of the contribution made by the annual staff to the college program.

CC STUDENT LIFE

Tony Day
Editor

"Student life at Cumberland College represents various things—the close communion between students and instructors and the all-important communion of students with each other."

... the opportunity to meet many new and fascinating people, such as, Congressman Eugene Siler, an alumnus who spent several days with us on our campus.

Wintertime means many things at C. C. — Snowball fights, icy walks, iced up windshields, tippy-toeing across the old viaduct . . .

Walking when our cars won't start. And it's always a good excuse. "Snowed in."

ROBURN HALL

Welcome to our house, Sir.

Praying helps our needs.

Roburn Hall, the oldest building on campus, is the home of sixty-five girls. There are many fond memories in our hearts when we think of Roburn. We remember . . . dorm parties . . . prayer room . . . cry of man in the hall . . . open house . . . Fall capades . . . homecoming trophy . . . Miss Compton's food . . . ball games on T.V. . . . and the building of lasting friendships.

JOHNSON HALL

I like that record.

Haven't I seen you some place before?

Historic Johnson Hall has been a home away from home for many girls. It is the largest girls' dorm on campus. When we think of Johnson we remember . . . our Hobo party . . . dates and good times . . . Premieres . . . buying a T.V. . . . cry of "Prayer Meeting" . . . popcorn parties . . . even a "campus" or two . . . and secrets shared with others.

NEW DORM

Midnight snacks = pounds.

CRAM, CRAM, CRAM.

Moonbow trips . . . gab sessions . . . coffee at 3 A.M. . . . Sadie Hawkins day . . . Kay's birthday party . . . sweet hours of prayer . . . records in the parlor . . . one special a week . . . fire escape troubles. These are a few things girls in the new dorm will remember. The New Dorm is the newest addition to the Campus. An official name has not been given the dorm but it is affectionately called Holladay HALL after the two house mothers, Miss Holladay and Miss Hall.

MISS HOLLADAY

What about it, Mother?

MAHAN HALL

What a problem!

What's new tonight?

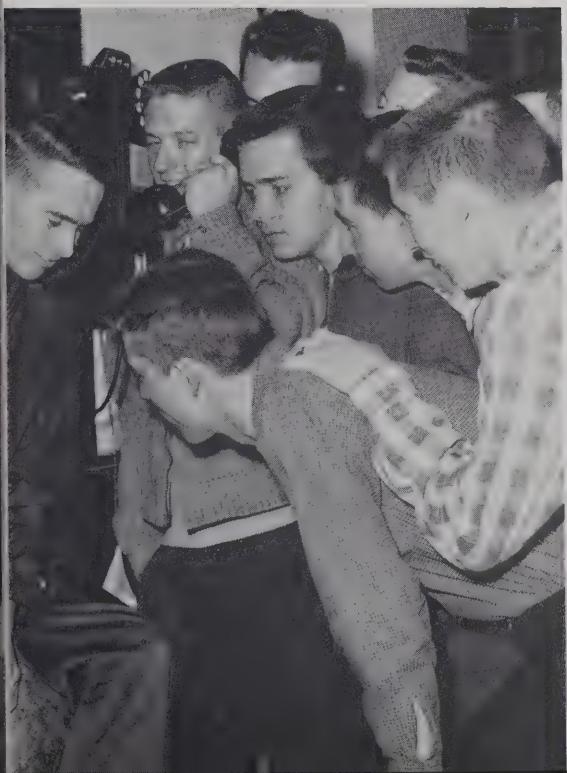

Mahan Hall has sheltered many young men at Cumberland. Several new things have been added to Mahan this year. It not only has a new dean but also it has a new housemother. Mahan Hall will long be remembered for . . . bull sessions late at night . . . football games . . . called meetings . . . big snowmen . . . cramming for exams . . . room checks . . . talks in "Mom's room." These are the ways that College life is made more pleasant and memorable.

BASKETBALL

With only three returning lettermen, Coach Bill Ross' inexperienced tribe of Cumberland College Indians substituted fighting determination for experience, went on the warpath and ended the year with a highly respectable 20 wins and 12 losses.

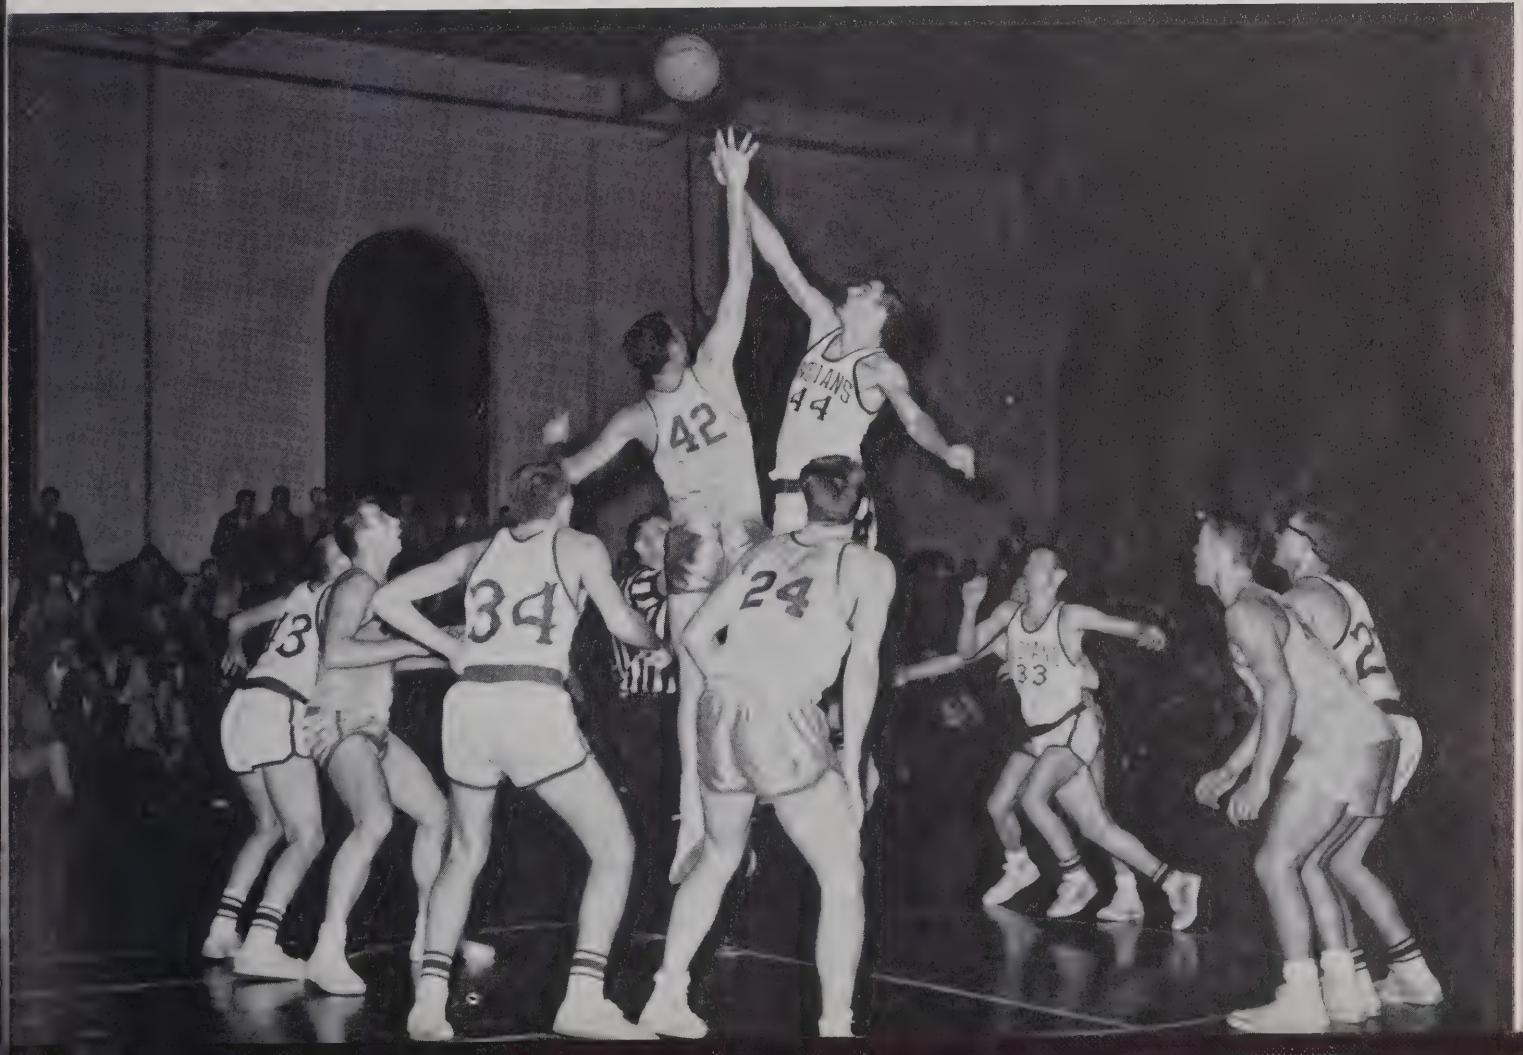

In the KJCC the Indians showed a marked improvement over last year and battled their way to a second place tie boasting an 8-6 conference record.

The Indians engaged in three tournaments this season and won glory for Cumberland in each. In the Kiwanis Tournament at London, Kentucky, the Indians upset nationally ranked Lindsey Wilson and finished in the runner-up spot. At Greer, South Carolina, in the North Greenville Invitational the Indians walked away with the consolation prize. The Indians ended the season by placing third in the KJCC Tournament, good for their battle prize of the year.

This has truly been an eventful year for the Indians. Center Bill Carlyle and forward Benny Collier were selected as first choices for the All-Conference team. Carlyle, who this year set a new Cumberland College scoring record, was chosen as first choice to KJCC All-Tournament team.

Cumberland College is proud of her Braves.

Head coach Bill Ross came to Cumberland College six years ago as a graduate of West Virginia Tech. and Marshall College. Before coming to Cumberland, Ross taught in the public schools of West Virginia.

During his years at Cumberland, Ross has produced teams which demanded the full support of the student body.

In the season of '59-'60 the Indians under Ross' leadership won three trophies plus many victories over their opponents. We now take time out to give our thanks to Coach for the contributions he has made to Cumberland College.

FROM THE BENCH

BILL ROSS

It is difficult in a few words to express my feelings concerning the 1959-1960 Cumberland Indians. When the school year started in the fall of 1959, I received phone calls from a number of boys who had signed to play at Cumberland. These boys expressed their regrets and said that since they had better offers elsewhere they were forced to accept them. This left us with what seemed to be an unsurmountable task in a rough conference. However, at that time I did not realize that the boys who did come had the fighting heart it takes to battle back.

The hold-overs (Maupin, Collier, and Carlyle) came to play, the Frosh did not know what it meant to quit. Other teams held the edge in experience, but no one could outfight this group of boys. Due to the lack of adequate subs in certain positions our team was sometimes a bit weary, but all-in-all I feel they did an outstanding job. The future of these boys will be bright, because they have followed the motto of: "Aim at the stars," and even if you don't reach them, you will still land very high.

It takes more than players and a coach to make a team. Bobby, "Pup" Morris, gave the Indian team the final touch as their manager.

"Pup," a graduate of Bethel Junior College, is now a Junior at Cumberland. Basketball is nothing new to him since he played during high school and with Bethel for two years. Physical Education is "Pup's" major and this experience as manager will help him achieve his goal of being a coach.

Now the season is over, and we take time out to salute "Pup" for the fine job he did of managing the Indians.
